

Out now!

'SCAPE CAHIER CRAFTSMANSHIP

Here's the new cahier of 'scape, the international magazine for landscape architecture and urbanism. This issue is all about craftsmanship, which becomes evident in the choice of beautifully designed projects: in Monte, a small hamlet in Ticino, the designers from studioser reinterpreted its public spaces with an extraordinary care for subtlety and details. Calle Alta, a street at the foot of Calaceite's hill in Teruel, Spain, is recovered with an homage to limestone landscapes. And last but not least, in Vercorin, located in the Swiss Alps, new pavements were designed by carefully reading the veins of different stones.

In this issue architect Fernando Menis shares with us his designer's thoughts, and we highlight a podcast with artist Refik Anadol, in which he talks about AI, machine dreaming and art. Also, we discuss two publications that caught our eye: 30 Trees and Why Landscape Architects Love Them and Art Applied by Inside Outside by Petra Blaise.

In short, more than enough to read, look at and listen to. Enjoy this new cahier!

'... extraordinary care for details'

Project Monte by studioser

'scape #1 / 2023

Projects

The redesign of the public space of Monte / studioser
Recovering the Calle Alta in Calaceite / MAAMITO
The new pavement for Vercorin / En-Dehors

Designer's thoughts

Fernando Menis
his motives, favourite projects, examples and sources of inspiration

Podcast

On Design / Refik Anadol on AI, machine dreaming and art

Book reviews

30 Trees and Art Applied

Language English

Binding softcover with dustbin poster, 17 x 24 cm,
52 pages, full colour

Contributions to this issue Harry Harsema, Daphne de Bruijn,
Djuna Spreksel, Fernando Menis

Design Daphne de Bruijn, Harry Harsema, Blauwdruk Publishers

Sales and distribution Blauwdruk Publishers

Price €12,50

Order 'scape

Order via the webshop of Blauwdruk Publishers

Bookshops can order via Ideabooks

#CRAFTSMANSHIP
#PUBLICSPACE
#DESIGNERTHOUGHTS
#BEAUTY
#MACHINEDREAMING
#LOCALMATERIALS

'... different stones, that were one by one collected, numbered, sawed, and measured like a puzzle'

Project Vercorin by En-Dehors

